VICTORVILLE — As Chester’s International continues its aggressive move to establish eateries across the country, the Alabama-based company has opened another restaurant in the High Desert.

“We at Chester’s are really excited about the recent opening of a new location in Victorville, in partnership with Ken Parker and his team at The Depot,” said Gina Trammell, a spokeswoman for Chester’s, in a recent email.

Located on the corner of Bear Valley and Amargosa roads, The Depot is also home to Valero Gas, Nespresso Coffee, a coffee-to-car service and a 24/7 drive-thru carwash.

With a boot and cowboy hat-wearing chicken as its mascot, Chester’s serves up a variety of menu items, such as bone-in chicken, tenders and boneless wings, potato wedges, mashed potatoes and gravy, fried corn, macaroni and cheese and coleslaw, as well as Chester’s dipping sauces.

“We look forward to becoming all of our customer’s one-stop-shop destination with the addition of the Chester’s foodservice program,” Parker said in the email.

With more than 2,000 Chester Fried licensed and Chester’s franchised locations, the chicken restaurant opened 26 new convenience store and other locations from March to May, as the each location partnered with retailers all over the country.

Chester’s is open seven days a week, from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. at 12080 Amargosa Road. For more information on Chester’s at The Depot, visit www. victorvillevalero.com.
